EXECUTIVE PARDONS

DO THEY VINDICATE THE CONVICT—INTERESTING DECISION

In the United States Circuit Court yesterday before Judge Benedict, Mr Hirsch pursuant to notice of motion made application to set aside a record of conviction obtained on the 30th of November, 1868 against George P Davies on a charge of perjury Davies was an internal revenue officer under Collector Joshua H Bailey and while in that capacity made certain statements charging the Collector with fraud to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars The allegations were denied, Davies was indicted and upon conviction was sentenced to a lengthened term of imprisonment After the flight of Bailey a petition was drawn up in favor of the prisoner and on the 6th of June 1870 he was released by order of the President Subsequently he commenced civil proceedings with a view to indemnification for his imprisonment, but his testimony was not held to be admissable on the ground that he was a convict Yesterday his counsel contended that his release before the expiration of the term of his servitude was a virtual acknowledgment of his innocence and the record of his conviction should be destroyed so as to restore him to his full personal rights Judge Benedict decided that in no respect could an Executive pardon be regarded as bearing upon the question of the guilt or innocence of a prisoner Pardons of that character were granted for a variety of reasons He doubted the right of the Executive to release prisoners after conviction but there was no precedent for the assertion that such a pardon invalidated the decision arrived at on the trial He did not see any reason why the records of the Court should be set aside and he denied the motion —N Y Times, Feb [illegible]th

ANOTHER LETTER ABOUT THE LOCKS

PORTLAND Oregon Feb [illegible] 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

[illegible] letter in this morning's issue [illegible] this brief reply to the letter of Mr W

Your correspondent [illegible] frighten the people [illegible] of the locks as follows

If it be indeed true [illegible] the Bulletin then the money spent in the construction of the canal and locks [illegible] being a paying investment [illegible] which collection would be possible

There is the bugaboo which is to be used to frighten the people of this State into taxing themselves to the extent of six or eight hundred thousand dollars to relieve the company of an unfortunate venture The argument offered is false in fact and theory In point of fact the opening of the canal has not offered the competition claimed for it The Railroad Company have not reduced their rates since the canal was opened a particle in the Willamette Valley, and it does three-fourths of the transportation on the east side The old Steamboat Line is still in operation and said to be making money running against the canal line [illegible] And no boats but the Canal Company's line have ever used the canal for regular or continued business showing that it has not yet opened the river beyond its own close corporation limits

But the answer to all this humbug scare about these locks is let the Legislature pass such laws as will effectually keep that canal and locks open to all comers, no matter who owns the work Having already donated two hundred thousand dollars to the company to help them construct them let no man be frightened into voting for six hundred thousand more The tax payers of this State are not so defenseless as to be subject to be throttled by anybody, no matter who they are or what their business The Legislature—the people—have created these corporations—both canal and railroad—and have given them about all the property they possess and they have ample power through their Legislative Assembly to lay a restraining hand on their charges and conduct or to prohibit combinations between them, and these same sovereign people will be very apt to exercise that power before they vote to tax themselves for the benefit of the lock company There is many a public spirited man makes a bad venture in erecting mills and factories whereby the necessaries of life are produced and cheapened and there would be just as much sense and justice in making good the loss to such men, as to the Lock Company

Mr W makes another [illegible] as follows

"There could be no competition if the Railroad Company owned the canal and locks, for while it would be true that any man might run a boat through the canal who would pay the tariff established by law yet it would be equally true that while such a boat was afloat the Company owning the canal would put freight charges down so low that no opposition could survive beyond a brief struggle to defend itself and then the former oppressive charges would be restored Nor may it be said that the Legislative Assembly can apply a remedy by affixing the rates of river freight just as it regulated the charges for passage through the canal or establishes the tariff of freights on railroads But these two last are artificial works while the river is a great natural highway, upon which all may travel without paying toll and upon which all may carry for whatever compensation people in [illegible] or necessities may incline them to give

The point in that whatever it may be is very obscure Mr W asks us to concede that there could be no opposition on the river if the Railroad Company owned the locks because their boats would put rates down so low as to ruin such attempted opposition while he at the same time admits that the opposition boats could use the canal at the rates established by law Well then I want to know if opposition boats could not live on the river while using the canal at the rates established by law how can it help such opposition boat to have the State purchase the locks because the State would also collect the tolls established by law? And if the State even made the canal free the railroad boats would be as much benefited as the opposition

If Mr W's argument amounts to anything at all it comes to this That the State must not only buy this canal and locks to keep the work out of the hands of the railroad company but the State must also go into the boat business and run steamboats on the [illegible] Willamette to keep up opposition to the railroad—a proposition sufficiently absurd to show at once the folly of the Legislature throwing away the people's money to purchase a public work which they have already as complete a right to control with it now [illegible] A TAX PAYER

FATHER MESPLIE'S CLAIM

A correspondent of the State Journal writing from Washington D C says:

Rev Father Mesplie appointed chaplain in the army a year or two ago and well known on the Pacific coast as a Catholic priest and missionary among the Indians has presented a memorial to the House of Representatives and Mr Shanks has introduced a bill to accompany it and they have been referred to the Committee on Claims asking pay for acting as Indian agent and negotiator peace maker and chaplain to the United States Army He sets forth in his memorial dated at Camp Harney Oregon Dec 1st 1873 and supported by numerous affidavits that he came from France to Portland Oregon Aug [illegible] and since that time has carried on his ministry in a new land in the name of God and for the salvation of souls preaching to the various Indian tribes in the Willamette Valley and along the lower Columbia river then was stationed at the Dalles as missionary and acted as peace maker and missionary among the various tribes in Eastern Oregon He says "During all those years 23 in number I have acted as chaplain for the army and done service at the following military stations Camp Pickett Fort Steilacoom Fort Astoria, Fort Dalles Fort Yamhill Fort Hoskins Fort Walla Walla Fort Simcoe Fort Boise Fort Hall and Camp Douglas, Three Forks of the Owyhee and Fort Vancouver Twenty-three years of my life have been consecrated to the teaching of Indians and to the service of the army as chaplain without having received a cent for compensation either as Indian teacher or as chaplain And it is only at this late date when universal peace reigns among the nations in which I labored, that I present this memorial to the Congress of the United States praying that your honorable body will give attention to the petition of a man who has grown gray in the service of God civilization and the service of the United States in the wilderness Your memorialist therefore prays for the passage of an act authorizing the Secretary to pay to him out of any moneys not otherwise appropriated a sum equal to the amount that would have been due him as chaplain in the Army during the period hereinbefore mentioned The bill provides for the payment of a sum equal to the amount that would have been due as the pay of chaplain in the United States Army for the period of twenty three years

SOUND REASONING

The movement for a State ticket independent of both party organizations is gaining strength and volume every day. The people who have gone into the independent county movements reason that if their rights are likely to be more closely guarded and the laws more economically administered in county matters as a result of selecting sound practical men to serve the public regardless of party machinery and party affiliations the same is true of State matters. And since there is no important political question now at issue and no event of political significance depending on the result of the State election the occasion will be seized by the masses to place men in legislative as well as administrative offices who will have an eye to the details of public business and will scrutinize all the expenditures of public moneys more rigidly than has been the habit of those selected under party rule. Men who have no political friends to reward and no political organizations to bolster up are free from the temptation to create new offices to be filled by their friends to raise the salaries and emoluments of old ones to appropriate money for unnecessary and impracticable wagon roads to pass acts compelling the people to pay double price for legal printing and to consent to the wasteful expenditure of the people's treasure in the hundred other ways with which the experience of the last few years has familiarized the country. It is not the wrongs of one political party above the other that the expenses of the government, both in State and county affairs, have, within a few years, increased beyond all proportion to the increase of population. The State has been part of the time under Republican rule, and part of the time under Democratic and some counties have been Democratic, others Republican, all the while, and yet there has been as much complaint and as great cause of complaint, under the rule of one organization as the other. The truth is, that the means adopted by one political party to sustain itself in power by the use of the public revenues, in indirect ways, for party purposes, have furnished both the incentive and the precedent for the practicing of like abuses by the adverse party, till there seems but one mode of checking the progress of the evil. The abuses of party rule must be prevented by placing the law-making and law executing powers above the temptations of party. Whether this high ground be taken now or sometime in the future, it is certain there will be no thorough and efficient system of public economy inaugurated under any less radical change of the relations of the public servants to the people.

THE WRONG "CHANNEL" AND NOT THE RIGHT "CLASS OF MEN"

The Bulletin refers to those farmers who are taking an active part in the movement for more economical administration of public affairs as "advocates of spurious reform," and says of their movement that, "real reform will never come through these channels. There must be a different class of men." This sneer at the efforts of the working classes to relieve themselves from their load of taxes so far as they can do so without detriment to the public welfare, is not out of character in the Bulletin. That paper is owned by the man who controls the railway monopoly of Oregon, and is run in the interests of that monopoly and of the ring of politicians who hold office by his sufferance. But the people will not be likely soon to forget the sneer nor the source whence it came, nor will they remit their efforts to secure cheaper government and lower taxes.

"There must be a different class of men." There's the rub. The "class of men" brought forward and elected to office by the people whenever their movement has been successful don't suit the briber's organ. The reform is needed and urgently needed, but then the people are attempting to accomplish it through methods that contemplate the relegation of the politicians who have lived on the spoils of office so many years, to the walks of private life. That hurts. "Reform is demanded, it is true but it must never "be reached through these channels."—Bulletin. "These channels" are not composed of the right "class of men." The only "channel" that would satisfy the briber's ring runs right through the Portland Custom House and Oregon and California Railway Company's office and the only "class of men" that the Bulletin would consider fit to manage the reform—and the only sort that would in fact be fit for the reform it would favor—are the Custom House officers and railway and steamship employees—which are one and the same. We have some reason to doubt whether or not the farmers and other working people who are engaged in this reform movement are going to consult the wishes of Mr Holladay's paper very particularly in relation to their action and we should not be at all surprised if they perform their work without the slightest reference to the views of the "class of men" whom the Bulletin evidently regards as having an exclusive right to think about politics. The Bulletin is likely to find out by the time this movement is completed, that the enterprise its crowd have undertaken of monopolizing the right of political action is a far more difficult one than that of securing a monopoly of transportation on the railways.

Hon A B Meacham is engaged in publishing a work on the Modoc Wars the History of the Indians of the Northwest their religion manners and customs and the past and present policy of the Government in dealing with them. And in connection with this he is lecturing in the cities and towns of the East on the assassination of Gen Canby and Dr Thomas and matters cognate thereto. The papers of the East speak in very complimentary terms of his lecture. His address is [illegible] Chambers street Boston.

The Chicago Times condenses the whole political duty of the present hour into one sentence: "The highest and purest and truest patriotism consists in fighting thieves."

THE INDEPENDENT STATE CONVENTION

In this morning's paper appears a call for an Independent State Convention issued by the Douglas County Convention. The State Convention is to be held at Salem on the 15th of April and it is recommended that precinct meetings be held on the 28th of March for the purpose of choosing delegates to County Conventions to be held on April 4th to select delegates to the State Convention.

This puts the movement for an Independent State ticket on its feet and makes the way simple and plain for cooperation in other counties. Douglas county we believe is entitled to the credit of having led off in the county movements but she did not mistake the sentiment of the people all over the State. It is fitting that from the same county should come the call with definite recommendations as to date of precinct and County Conventions for a State Convention.

In some of the counties the Independent movement already inaugurated, contemplates the electing of delegates to a State Convention and in others only the nomination of local tickets. The call for the State Convention makes provision for these differences. So that delegates may be chosen by the Conventions already called, thus avoiding the necessity of a second Convention. This is the beginning of the end of ring domination in Oregon.

THE END OF THE TICHBORNE CLAIMANT

The great sensation is at end and Roger Tichborne alias Arthur Orton the Wapping Butcher (or vice versa) must take a trip in a government ship as the ballad goes. The trial proper occupied one hundred and eighty days. Then came Chief Justice Cochburn's charge which consumed we believe about three weeks. The sentence of the Claimant is an effectual bar to the contemplated suit which was to follow.

Eighteen years of penal servitude is not a pleasant outlook for the man who two years ago seemed certain of winning the magnificent estates left by Lady Tichborne. If the claimant really is an impostor (and on this point there will always be two opinions) he was the most remarkable fraud of this or any other age. If indeed he was a swindler then his claim was based on the most stupendous perjury of time. He has been denounced as an idiot—his own counsel characterizing him as a man who had been degraded by excessive dissipation to the level of the brute. Yet his story was complete in every detail fortified by circumstantial evidence which if false was little less than marvellous and supported throughout by a throng of witnesses gathered from every quarter of the globe. It is difficult to understand how a worthless besotted scamp devoid of education or even of that low cunning which is instinct with the brute and skilled talent in the man could frame the skeleton of a fraud so gigantic much less clothe it with flesh breathe into its nostrils the breath of life and endeavor may well nigh succeed in the endeavor to set it in the ancestral halls of the last of the Tichbornes. We suppose the answer will be that that trinity which the Englishman worships—namely, pounds, shillings and pence—conceived organized and sustained the bold claim. This explanation will suffice with most people but there is already in sight a flood of Tichborne literature the issue of this prolix trial which will start the query "Who is he?" There are tomes of vindications huge folios of evidence and an overwhelming avalanch of pamphlets yet to come. For this stupid Bœotian carried the heart of the English lower classes by storm, and thousands of them have a pecuniary interest in vindicating his character and their own wisdom. Moreover he has allies in Parliament although they number one less than before the recent Parliamentary election. Mr Guildford Onslow, chief backer of the claim but having been defeated by his first cousin Mr Denzill Onslow. Already there are indications of [illegible] on the part of the English public. But the claimant's partisans stand by him, in the main.

The trial of the Tichborne Claimant has contributed largely to a very scandalous species of literature. The license allowed Dr Kenealy is unparalleled in Courts on this side of the Atlantic. Accounts of the scandalous scenes between the Court and the senior counsel for the Claimant have been published at frequent intervals in the [illegible]. In many instances these wordy altercations were mirth provoking, in all scandalous. Nor were these exhibitions of indecorum confined to the bar. The Chief Justice, who displayed such a woful inability to govern his tongue at Geneva bandied epithets with Dr Kenealy with a looseness utterly indecent in the American Judge. Here is a quotation from Chief Justice Cockburn's charge which is a pretty fair sample of the style which enlivened the tedious 180 days:

When witnesses are misrepresented said his lordship when their statements are distorted when facts are perverted when dates are set at nought and all this, not for the purpose of argument in the cause but in order to lay the foundation of foul imputations and unjust accusations against parties and witnesses—when one unceasing torrent of invective and black foul slime is sent forth where with to blacken the characters of men whose reputations have hitherto been without reproach—it is impossible for Judges to remain silent. We felt it to be our duty to interpose and check the torrent of indiscriminate and unlimited abuse in which the learned counsel for the defendant thought proper to indulge. And in what way were our remonstrances met? By contumely disrespect insult by covert allusions to Scroggs and Jeffries Judges of infamous repute as if the spirit of Scroggs and Jeffries animated the administration of justice in the present day. I think that if it did the learned counsel for the defendant would have been laid by the heel and put aside. That was the way we were met and with suggestions that we were interfering with the liberty and the privilege of the bar.

Occasionally during the progress of the trial the jurors expressed their minds with peculiar freedom. One of them gently reminded Dr Kenealy that he was [illegible] while another fiercely asked him if he thought the jury were all fools.

Altogether we may say this has been a most remarkable trial. The identity of the convict will never perhaps be established to the satisfaction of all. In a few years at any rate Junius and the Man with the Iron Mask will be thrust aside and the burly figure of the Tichborne claimant will occupy their place.

We received yesterday a printed paper containing the call for an independent County Convention in Benton county with over two hundred names signed to it. Among the list we note those of many gentlemen of prominence in the county whom we have known for years as active party men. Some we have known as Republicans others as Democrats. This call provides for the election of delegates to a State Convention should one be called. The condition is met by the call from Douglas county so Benton is already in line.

A CALL
TO THE TAXPAYERS AND LABORING MEN OF ALL CLASSES OF LANE COUNTY

WHEREAS In view of the fact that the best interests of laboring men of all classes have hitherto been subverted and wantonly neglected by would be friends and midnight schemers of political parties and that burdensome taxes have been levied and unjust legislation had, which has invariably worked a hard lap on laboring men everywhere; therefore be it

Resolved That we as laboring men we will combat and make [illegible] against such unjust oppression and assert our right as freemen irrespective of old parties and prejudices and will ever be found battling for just and impartial laws and will to the bitter end oppose any and all efforts by designing tricksters and dishonesty [illegible] into effect by this [illegible] and [illegible] thereby trampling under foot the will of the people.

Resolved That we have the moral courage to cut ourselves loose from party and earnestly contend for the rights of laboring men of all classes that we will

for office and that we will hereafter oppose any and all chronic and constitutional office seekers.

Therefore as laboring men we call upon the taxpayers of Lane county irrespective of party or occupation (who advocate the principles herein enumerated) to meet at their respective places of holding election on Saturday the 14th day of March 1874 at 1 o'clock P M to select from the taxpayers irrespective of party delegates to attend a County Convention to be held at Eugene City on Saturday the 21st day of March 1874 at 10 o'clock A M to nominate suitable men as candidates for the next June election—one delegate for every fifteen votes and one delegate for every fraction over eight votes taking for a basis the aggregate vote of Wilson and Burnett.

The above call was put in circulation in Lane county last Friday and we are informed has received the signatures of nearly all who have had an opportunity of seeing it. The movement will be indorsed by at least three fourths of the voters of Lane county of both political parties if the present indications are to be relied upon. Our informant also states that there is a very decided purpose in that county to support an independent State ticket should one be brought forward.

DOUGLAS COUNTY NOMINATIONS

ROSEBURG, Feb 28, 1874

One of the largest and most enthusiastic assemblages met to day in the People's County Convention, and placed in nomination the following candidates: W F Owen State Senator; George Riddle, D W Stearns, Thos Ledgerwood and J C Drain, Representatives; Plum Cooper Sheriff; Eli Stephens Clerk; Thomas Smith County Judge; A T Ambrose and Henry Adams Commissioners; H J Watkins School Superintendent; John Bonbrake Treasurer; A A Matthews Assessor; Wm Thiel Surveyor; S Palmer Coroner.

Representative Kelley of Pennsylvania proposes to have the present Congress meet in Philadelphia in September next on the hundredth anniversary of the first meeting of the Continental Congress in that city. He has introduced in the House a resolution to this effect. It calls also for an oration from Vice President Wilson, and provides that Speaker Blaine shall preside. A Washington correspondent says that comment among members has been hostile to the resolution thus far. The proposed session would be informal—a mere ceremony, and Kelley's resolution if adopted would leave each Senator and Representative free to go or lounge in Boss Shepherd's club room at his own sweet will.

The New York Times calls the attention of the people of that city to the astounding fact that investigations into the Tammany robberies have been in progress for two years that they have revealed the existence of a clearly traceable steal amounting to over $23,000,000 that with Tweed and Ingersoll in jail and Connolly, Genet and others fugitives from justice the injured tax payers have not yet been able to recover a cent of the enormous "Swag." More than this it predicts that the decision in the suits now pending will be of value rather to succeeding generations than to the one which the Ring has plundered.

Wasserguild is the name of the coming temperance society. It has recently been organized in Washington and its chief object is declared to be the abolition of retail liquor traffic by the imposition of tariffs and taxes so heavy that the average rum seller will be compelled to succumb. Grand Guilds are to be instituted in the capitals of all the States and Territories with subordinate branches in every county and a Supreme Guild at the national capital. While the wasser gentlemen are preparing their regalia and ritual the women of the West are praying the saloon keepers into the straight and narrow way.

Among the nominees of the Douglas county Independent Convention for Representatives in the Legislature are Hon George Riddle, who was a Republican member of the last Legislature and D W Stearns a member of the Republican State Central Committee.

The people of Douglas county propose to return Hon George Riddle to the Legislature. He served them faithfully as a member of the last Legislature and his faithfulness is appreciated.

Hon Lindley Watson of Douglas county we are told is actively engaged in the independent tax payers movement.

[illegible] MART. [illegible] few [illegible] in the [illegible] when Mart Taylor [illegible] than in Portland. Some fellows [illegible] the following good story on Mart which impressed [illegible] the Editor's Drawer [illegible] as follows:

[illegible] California and meeting there Clarksville [illegible] who seemed to know him and who [illegible] help put up [illegible] [illegible] was crowded and Mart played [illegible] than ordinary [illegible] the door keeper [illegible] Well [illegible] "How [illegible]" "Mart," says the door keeper, "Seven hundred dollars." [illegible] claimed Mart in utter astonishment. "Why there were over two hundred people inside." [illegible] "Well, but how much [illegible] taking—half dollar each?" "Only [illegible] seven dollars," says the door keeper at the same moment handing Mart over [illegible]. Mart took it and walked moodily away. [illegible] Half an hour later Mart walked into a saloon and there sat his assistant behind a large heap of [illegible] every one to play poker. Mart walked up to the bar and [illegible] up a deck that lay upon the counter asked the bar keeper who the [illegible] was. "Don't know [illegible] seems to have plenty of money. Been here six weeks—never had a cent before." Mart turning around walked up to the table saying "My friend, I'll play a little, single-handed." "All right," said he, and in a moment both were engaged in the game. Soon the door keeper made a bet. Mart raised him. Door keeper raised back and Mart topped his pile. "Four kings," said the door keeper. "Four aces," said Mart pocketing the money. Mart then arose from the table and as he did so said "I have performed ten years in California, but gentlemen this is the first time I ever played twice to the same money." The laugh was on the door keeper and the next morning he was not in town. Those who know this strange compound of humanity will recognize the picture at a glance.

NOT ARRESTED AFTER ALL.—From information we have received from a gentleman who has just arrived in this city it appears that Joe Taylor and Jack Clarke both well known here were not arrested in Victoria reports to the contrary notwithstanding. Several weeks since reports were received here from various sources to the effect that Joe Taylor had been arrested at Victoria by the authorities for some serious offense tried and sentenced to prison for eight years. It was also reported at the same time that Jack Clarke who formerly kept a bowling alley in this city had been arrested by the authorities. These reports were published by the city press at the time and were believed to be true. No mention was made of the arrest of these parties by any of the Victoria papers and from that fact we were inclined to doubt the truth of the statement. Our informant who came direct from Victoria states there is no truth whatever in the report. He had a conversation with Taylor and Clarke last week and saw both go on board the steamer bound for the Stickeen mines last Thursday. He says that Clarke and Taylor during the time they stayed in Victoria, were engaged in training four dogs and teaching the animals to draw a sled on which was to be placed blankets and "grub" for the two men while on the way to the gold bearing regions of Stickeen. Our informant is truthful and reliable and we have no reason to call in question his statement.

BOATS FINISHED.—Mr Holland chief builder for the O S N Company, returned on Friday from Celilo where he has been superintending the repairs being made to the steamers Tenino, Yakima and Owyhee. He informs us that these three steamers are all ready for service, having been thoroughly overhauled. A tube sheet has yet to be attached to the Yakima, before that steamer will be ready to run. At present the stage of water on the Upper Columbia is remarkably low and from indications navigation will not be resumed for some time to come. The company have taken advantage of this season of inactivity and placed their boats in the best possible condition to meet the demands of the spring and summer trade. The elegant steamer Dora Ainsworth has been taken out on the ways at the Dalles and been "lined up." She is now in splendid condition for service. Not until the spring trade is fairly inaugurated and navigation is resumed on the Upper Columbia will the Daisy Ainsworth take the place of the [illegible].

ON A ROCK.—Several days since the little side-wheel steamer Minnehaha started up the river to the powder house of one of the well known hardware firms in the city for the purpose of bringing down a quantity of the [illegible]

GOOD ON MART —There are but few localities upon the Pacific slope where Mart Taylor is better known than in Portland Some fellow has just sent to Harper's Magazine the following good story on Mart which impressed the publishers so favorably that they honored it with a place in the "Editor's Drawer." Substantially it is as follows

One time in his wanderings he went into Clarksville California and meeting there a person who appeared to know him and who was willing to help put up scenery, etc he finally engaged him to "tend door." The house, as usual was crowded and Mart played with more than ordinary vim After it was over he sought his door keeper and invited him to take something "Well I don't care if I do," said the door keeper "First rate house" said Mart "Bully" said the door keeper "How much did you take in?" "Seventeen dollars" says the door-keeper "Seventeen dollars!" exclaimed Mart in utter astonishment "Why there were over two hundred people inside" "I guess there were" "Well but how much money did you take—half dollar each?" "Only seventeen dollars" says the door keeper at the same moment handing Mart over that sum Mart took it and walked moodily away Half an hour later Mart walked into a saloon and there sat his assistant behind a large heap of silver, bantering every one to play poker Mart walked up to the bar and while shuffling up a deck that lay upon the counter asked the bar keep who the man was "Don't know sir seems to have plenty of money Been here six weeks—never had a cent before" Mart, turning around walked up to the table, saying "My friend, I'll play a little, single-handed" "All right," said he and in a moment both were engaged in the game Soon the door keeper made a bet Mart "raised" him Door keeper "raised" back and Mart topped his pile "Four kings" said the door keeper "Four aces," said Mart pocketing the money Mart then arose from the table and as he did so said "I have performed ten years in California, but, gentlemen, this is the first time I ever played twice for the same money" The laugh was on the door-keeper and the next morning he was not in town Those who know this strange compound of humanity will recognize the picture at a glance

NOT A [illegible] AFTER ALL —From information we have received from a gentleman who has just arrived in this city, it appears that Joe Taylor and Jack Clarke both well-known here, were not arrested in Victoria reports to the contrary notwithstanding Several weeks since reports were received here from various sources to the effect that Joe Taylor had been arrested at Victoria by the authorities for some serious offense, tried, and sentenced to prison for eight years. Our informant who came direct from Victoria states there is no truth whatever in the report. BOATS FINISHED.—Mr Holland, chief builder for the O S N. Company, returned on Friday from Celilo, where he has been superintending the repairs being made to the steamers, Tenino, Yakima and Owyhee He informs us that these three steamers are all ready for service, having been thoroughly overhauled. A "tube sheet" has yet to be attached to the Yakima, before that steamer will be ready to run At present the stage of water on the Upper Columbia is remarkably low, and from indications, navigation will not be resumed for some time to come. The company have taken advantage of this season of inactivity and placed their boats in the best possible condition to meet the demands of the spring and summer trade The elegant steamer Daisy Ainsworth has been taken out on the ways at the Dalles, and been "lined up" She is now in splendid condition for service Not until the spring trade is fairly inaugurated, and navigation is resumed on the Upper Columbia, will the Daisy Ainsworth take the place of the Idaho.

ON A ROCK.—Several days since the little side-wheel steamer Minnehaha started up the river to the powder house of one of the well known hardware firms in the city, for the purpose of bringing down a quantity of the explosive material The boat succeeded in reaching her destination and took on board the required quantity of powder She had just started off and had reached but a short distance from the shore, when the hull ran afoul of a rock which stove a hole clear through Fortunately, the water was not deep enough to entirely submerge the craft, or else the powder would have been destroyed Intelligence of the accident was brought down and one of the small propellers dispatched to the assistance of the Minnehaha The powder was transferred at once to the other craft and brought in safety to this city We are unable to state whether the Minnehaha has been raised or not.

PUGET SOUND'S LATEST —The San Francisco Chronicle under the above head speaks thus The barkentine Modoc was open for inspection yesterday afternoon at Jackson street wharf She was built at Grennan & Craney's shipyard, Utsalady, W. T under contract for Capt. I Johnson, of this city who will use her in the lumber trade She is a medium clipper, tonnage 452 tons, 170 feet long 36½ feet in width depth of hold, 12¼ feet breadth of beam 36 feet, square fastened through treenails, and scarfed ceilings timbers are 10 by 14 inches fastened with 1¼ inch iron bolts, beams are 19 by 16 inches, and outside planks 4 inches Mr Boole represents that the shipbuilding interests at Puget Sound are reviving and asserts that the Oregon pine of which the Modoc is composed, is equal if not superior, for ship-building purposes to oak

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES —The Democratic primaries were held in this city on Saturday afternoon The following delegates were chosen to attend the County Convention, which will meet in this city on next Saturday to elect delegates to attend the State Convention to meet at Albany on the 18th inst

GOOD PAINTING —At the office of Wells Fargo & Co can be seen a superb oil painting entitled "The Days When I Was Young" The scene represents an urchin mounted on the back of a calf which has broken loose from where it was tied and is scampering off down hill at a fearful speed It is hard to determine which of the two is the worse frightened—the calf or boy A dog is also in hot pursuit of the frightened animal in the hope no doubt of lending some assistance to his young master but only to make matters all the worse The painting is admirably worked up even to the most insignificant detail and reflects much credit on the artist This painting is from the brush of Mr Thad Welch a young Oregonian well known in Portland but who is now in San Francisco

KEEPING HOTEL —Mr E F Root who was conductor on the O & C R R for some time, is now one of the proprietors of the Commercial Hotel in Dallas Texas The name of the firm is Hollenbeck & Root Mr Root has just sent for his most estimable wife who has been residing in this city since his departure from the State and who will join her husband without delay Few persons connected with the railroad were more uniformly courteous and gentlemanly than Mr Root He has many warm friends here who will be gratified to hear of his whereabouts and well doing.

REMARKABLY LOW —A gentleman who has just arrived from Celilo informs us that the Columbia at that point is about six inches lower than it was ever known to be before at this season Some of the "oldest inhabitants" in that vicinity assert that they never saw the river as low as it is now Our informant states that while he was on board the train coming down he observed two small islands in the Columbia opposite what is known as the "Little Dalles" These islands were about one foot above the surface of the stream Old residents informed him that they had never before seen these islands even at the lowest stages of water.

RETURNED —The Oregon Churchman has the following The Rev Mr Wells arrived in Portland on Sunday evening by the last steamer and left on Tuesday morning for Walla Walla going from the Dalles 150 miles by stage He was in excellent health and spirits, and returns to his work with the same zeal that has always characterized him His visit to the East we trust will result in the early accession of two or three clergymen to our missionary ranks, besides his gain of missionary funds

BIDS REJECTED —Pursuant to announcement, sealed proposals for the construction of a cistern at the intersection of First and Stark streets with a capacity of 48 000 gallons were opened at the office of the Clerk and Auditor last Saturday by the Committee on Fire and Water and the Chief Engineer Several bids were opened, but the Committee rejected all The lowest bid was $800 and the highest $1 550

IMPOSING FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.

The most imposing Chinese funeral which has ever taken place in this city came off yesterday It was the observance of the obsequies of the late Too Goon former partner in the firm of Tong Duck Chung & Co of whose sudden demise allusion was made in the issue of last Friday At an early hour yesterday morning the elaborate ceremonies began over the remains of the dead The spot chosen for holding these ceremonies was Stark street between First and Second Too Goon was a member of the Order of Masons as known to exist among the Chinese and the ceremonies were principally conducted by the members of that Order These ceremonies were extremely tedious and elaborate and consisted of the administering of various superstitious rites of a symbolical character as grotesque as unintelligible They were relieved at very frequent intervals by rude music accompanied with the dissonant clangor of gongs During these ceremonies there were present at least one thousand spectators who watched with mingled curiosity and interest these heathenish rites The first notes of preparation were sounded about 10 o clock and the funeral procession was not ready to take up its line of march until half past 12 o clock The procession was formed in the following order First came several Chinamen dressed in white bearing two large bamboo lamps and scattering as they walked little slips of paper. Next came the East Portland Band in full uniform Just behind the band came two Chinamen bearing aloft a strange device consisting of a banner 12 or 15 feet long and one foot wide on which were painted a row of hieroglyphics — doubtless enumerating the many virtues of the dead Behind these came the members of the Masonic fraternity clad in spotless white and marching in slow and solemn order, two and two A long string of carriages—some 22 in number—brought up the rear in which were seated a number of females who acted as chief mourners on this occasion and made the very air hideous with their feline shrieks, and the friends and acquaintances of the deceased In the last vehicle composing the procession were seated a number of Chinese musicians who managed to create a terrific din by pounding on gongs and blowing on horns The procession reached the distance of nearly three blocks, and attracted vast crowds wherever it moved "The Dead March in Saul" and other appropriate airs were discoursed by the East Portland Band during the line of march. After traversing the principal streets for nearly an hour the procession dispersed and the remains were removed to the undertaker's The body is incased in an iron casket where it will remain until shipped to the Oriental shores We learn that the body has undergone the embalming process, and that it will be shipped below on the steamer to San Francisco and from thence to China for interment

Improvements still continue at Marshfield Strong efforts will be made to remove the county seat to that place

Coal shipments last week were 1 700 tons of lumber 650,000 feet an increase over previous weekly shipments since Jan 1st

Donald M Kay and others have located a new town opposite Marshfield and at present are laying it off in lots The site is said to be a good one

The bar was decidedly rough last Thursday, and out going vessels were delayed The Ecotana in crossing received a swell which demoralized the man at the wheel

The arrivals for the past week were the schooners Gotama Parallel and Enterprise sailed schooners B H Ramsdell H L Tiernan, Clara Light James Townsend Aurora and steamer Eastport

LITTLE BOYS BIG BOYS and boys of all sizes can be dressed in the very latest fashion by prevailing upon their fond parents to call and purchase from the entirely new and well selected stock which has just been laid in the spacious storeroom of Beck & Waldman They not only have a complete stock of youths clothing but can produce clothing for all equal in quality to any offered in the city and at prices that no one need be alarmed about Go one go all to Beck & Waldman's

CANDIDATES MAY BLOW excited men may rush to Stickeen the Chinese may celebrate and the Oregon must prevail and yet Jos Kohn opposite National Bank will continue to sell to the public generally anything from his varied stock of Clothing the largest in the city at prices that cannot be undersold by any house on the coast You only have to examine his stock to know Do so without further delay

CATEGORICAL COURTING

I a one night b de a bl e-eyed girl—
The fire was out and so too was her mother
A feeble flame around the lamp did curl
Making faint shadows blending in each other
T was nearly twelve o clock too in [illegible]
I had a shawl on also I remember

W [illegible] I had been to see her every night
For thirteen days and had a sneaking notion
To pop the question thinking all was right
And once or twice had made a sneaking motion
To take her hand and stammered coughed and stattered
But somehow nothing to the point I uttered

I thought the chance too good now to be lost
I hitched my chair up pretty close beside her
Drew a long breath and then my legs I crossed
Bent over sighed and for five minutes eyed her
She looked as if she knew what next was coming
And with her feet upon the floor was drumming

I didn't know how to begin or where—
I couldn't speak—the words were always choking
I scarce could move—I seemed tied to the chair—
I hardly breathed—twas awfully provoking
The perspiration from each pore came oozing
My heart and brain and limbs their power seemed losing

At length I saw a brindle tabby cat
Walk purring up inviting me to pat her
An idea came electric like at that
My doubts like summer clouds began to scatter
I seized on tabby though a scratch she gave me
And said Come puss ask Mary if she'll have me

Twas done at once—the murder now was out.
The thing was all explained in half a minute
She blushed and turning pussy cat about
Said Pussy tell him yes Her foot was in it
The cat had thus saved me my category
And here's the catastrophe of my story

THE DEADLY TRICHINÆ

THE INDIANA CASES—SEVERAL PERSONS BROUGHT TO THE POINT OF DEATH—MICROSCOPIC EXAMINATION OF THE DISEASED MEAT

CINCINNATI, Feb 1, 1874

Professor William Clendinin who fills the chair of anatomy in the Miami Medical College of this city returned to day from a professional visit to Aurora, Indiana twenty six miles below this city, on the Ohio river The object of his visit was the investigation of several cases of trichina spiralis of recent occurrence in that place The first victims are Mrs Threnart, a German widow and her three children two boys, aged fourteen and seven years, and a girl aged ten years

Dr Clendinin was interviewed by your special reporter and furnished the facts which follow

HISTORY OF THE CASE

It appears that Mrs Threnart had two hogs killed for home consumption about four weeks ago, one of which had been sick after running the streets a month or so before killing The animal had what is called the droop It was stiff in the limbs, and lost appetite but after dosing with sulphur and sweet milk it recovered and fattened up A quantity of sausage was made with the meat and of this Mrs Threnart and her children partook freely On last Monday it was prepared and cooked in the usual way On Tuesday last the parties took sick, complained of a withering pain in the bowels, of being very tired and sore all over the surface of the body Vomiting and diarrhœa set in and the family physician was called He thought the symptoms were those of typhoid fever, and treated accordingly The illness of the mother and her children excited the sympathy of her neighbors and they took it in turn to nurse them

Mrs Buyter, wife of the Methodist minister, with her two children, the youngest only four years old, was the first nurse, and devoted herself exclusively to the Christian duty She took up her abode in the sick house, and when meal time came, prepared and ate some of the sausage, together with the youngest child The other child would not touch it

SICKENED

On the next day, Thursday, Mrs Buyter and her child were seized in the same manner as the victim she came to nurse, and still no suspicion was aroused as to the cause

The same evening Miss Davis aged nineteen, and Miss Mollenhoff, aged twenty, two charming young women, came to nurse the sick, and at supper partook of the sausage and some of the fried [illegible] They were seized with pains in the stomach and bowels in an hour and were deathly sick An old woman prescribed hot whisky punch and made them drink freely; which increased the vomiting, and they are now convalescing

A lad named Krieger, who brought kindling wood to Mrs Threnart's house, had supper and is also down with the same sickness

Finally a Mrs. Ross came and ate of the meat and soon after took sick in the same manner as all the others, but she at once suspected the meat as the cause and said so to the physician

MEDICAL ADVICE

He called in Dr Sutton of the Health Department, and a scientific analysis of the sausage, cooked and raw, was made upon which the startling fact was revealed that the meat was literally alive with the

TRICHINA SPIRALIS

So tenacious is this little thing of life that it was seen to survive the pickling process and the cooking of the meat The entire carcass of the hog that had been sick is infected not even the bones being free from the invasion of the entozoon. Under the microscope it looks like knots and coils of the common earth worm, with very sharp or pointed extremities and while this is being written a speck of the flesh, not larger than the head of a small pin is on view and contains millions of the maggots wriggling and twisting about, although totally invisible to the naked eye

CONVALESCING

When Dr Clendenin left Aurora last night all the patients except the two young ladies, were still lying very ill

were alike in all A peculiar paleness of the skin, with a livid puffiness around the eyes, and the lower extremities puffed and swollen They lie crouched up in bed with the shoulders drawn forward and the knees drawn up to the chin There is a painful weakness in the limbs It is painful to protrude the furred and thickened tongue The voice is husky and changed in tone. There is a diarrhœa with a tendency to dysentery, thirst complete loss of appetite, and a fever which increases towards night

DIAGNOSIS OF RESULTS

The oldest boy and girl of Mrs Threnart and Mrs Buyter the minister's wife who is a fine healthy woman, will undoubtedly die but some hopes are entertained that all the victims will survive

The affair has created

THE GREATEST ALARM

and consternation in the community of Aurora, where there is a large German population which lives on pork and other meat of the hog kind A crowd of them invaded Dr Fulton's room at the hotel last evening with pieces of pork sausage and ham to have them examined for fear of trichina and public confidence has been so much shaken in pork, as an article of food. that the commodity is tabooed and it is now a drug in the Aurora market

WAITING FOR THE VERDICT

SCHOOLCRAFT, Mich Feb 11—Mr Cooley living many miles away has for the past year or more courted the lively Miss McC— of this prairie which resulted at last in an engagement and our would be groom bought the usual amount of hair oils, looming lustralune sweet meats and love drops and kept fully up to the times in all manner of presents and attentions Thus matters went on for a time but he being absent another and a wealthier swain offered his attentions. He was not refused, and after a proper time had elapsed they were engaged—the marriage to take place at the same time and under the same roof as had been promised the lady's first love Great preparations were being made by both parties and the bridal eve found both lovers on hand with priest and friends eager for the prize Each claimant made his plea before the blushing maiden and she retired to decide the case Her verdict was in favor of No 2 and No 1 gracefully accepted the situation and listened attentively to the ceremony which made his intended the bride of another This affair of which this is a strictly true account occurred among much respected and well to-do farmers —Chicago Times

NEGRO RULE IN SOUTH CAROLINA

The following is from the Charleston N[illegible] of a recent date

That the people of the country may see for themselves what kind of men conduct the fortunes of South Carolina at this time we make some extracts from the debate on the salary appropriation bill on Wednesday last as reported in our Columbia correspondence The speakers were the leading members of the House of Representatives and the question was whether the House appropriation bill or the Senate bill should be passed

Bowl[illegible] (colored) Chairman of the Committee on Ways and Means—Every year the Senate has managed to get the House under their control by holding the salary appropriation bill in their hands All matters that the House rather let the Senate at a draw [illegible] and [illegible] let them

Greene (colored)—The members of the House are nearly all [illegible] [illegible] into a fight with the Senate which is composed of men of means and who could afford to fight it out on this line if it took all summer

Humbert (colored)—I despise such a wishy washy way of doing things

Smith (colored)—I want my money and am ready to compromise with the Senate in order to get it at once

Mackey—What is the cause of the wonderful change in the opinion of certain members? It can be readily understood when it is remembered that the Senate bill provides for nearly $40,000 for [illegible] The bill is nothing more than a [illegible]

After some further debate the House took up the appropriation for the Penitentiary which Mackey moved to reduce from $65,000 to [illegible] 000 This led to a general indulgence in Billingsgate

Minort (colored)—The proposed appropriation is not a whit too large

Humbert (colored)—The institution ought to be self sustaining The member only wants a grab at the money

Hurley (coming to Minort's relief)—Mr Speaker I rise—

Humbert (to Hurley)—You shut your mouth Sah [Roars of laughter]

Greene (colored)—That thief from Darlington (A delicate allusion to Humbert)

Humbert—If I have robbed anything I expect to be Kuklux'd by just such highway robbers as the member (Greene) from Beaufort If I get in the Penitentiary I won't ask for $65,000 to support me

Greene (to Hurley)—You know as much about it as you do the Governor's contingent fund

Hurley—At least no one has been able or ever attempted to refute any charges against the Governor and his Excellency will not dare deny them

Greene (colored)—No! But if the Governor were not such a coward he would have cowhided you before this or got somebody else to do it

Hurley—If the gentleman from Beaufort (Greene) would allow the weapon named to be sliced from his cuticle I might submit to the castigation

On Thursday Greene who had probably seen his Excellency in the interval proceeded to explain that he did not mean to say that Moses was a coward thus

Greene (rising to a question of privilege)—It was not the Governor to whom I referred, but his aids What I said was that if the Governor's aids were not cowards they would have cowhided Hurley and if I were a member of the Governor's staff I would have done it before this

Hurley (rising to a counter question of privilege)—Nobody on the Governor's staff nobody he could put on there, not the doughty gentleman from Beaufort nor the valiant Governor himself, dare undertake to cowhide me

This is the usual style in which the business of law making and money grabbing is conducted in the South Carolina Legislature The Radical members call each other thieves, liars and rascals without any provocation and do not appear to have any idea that they are insulting anybody or that they are not telling the Gospel truth Roars of laughter on the part of the House and an increased consumption of peanuts follows these outpourings of fish-fag rhetoric but for the honest citizens of the State the farce threatens to have a tragic ending

THE PRAYER GAUGE

HOW THE PRAYING WOMEN OF RIPLEY ARE RECEIVED

RIPLEY O Feb 11—The ladies to day after visiting several saloons in town and this immediate vicinity proceeded to the neighboring town of Levanna, on the river about two miles below here Most of the persons living in that neighborhood are Germans and all have vineyards and are manufacturers of wine Among the many characters they found one old German and his wife, who keep a small saloon who were excited and vindictive The old man said he was sick and could not stand it He did not believe in them anyhow, and wished they would stay away with their foolishness He gave them a barrel and told them to sing and pray it full, and he would send it to heaven for them The ladies engaged in singing and prayer but the old gentleman insisted that if they did not go away he would go crazy They persisted however and before leaving him he became very much softened and invited them to come back again At another saloon in Levanna they found the door closed the windows barred, and on the door this notice

To the Praying Women of Ripley Look to Matthew vi 6 and 10, and to Isaiah i 15 and 16

The texts referred to read Take heed that ye do not your alms before men to be seen of them otherwise ye have no reward of your Father which is in heaven Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven and When ye spread forth your hands I will hide mine eyes from you yea when ye make many prayers I will not hear Your hands are full of blood Wash ye make you clean put away the evil of your doings from before mine eyes Cease to do evil

The ladies gathered around the door and after singing a hymn of praise kneeled on the pavement and engaged in prayer While the prayer meeting continued a few of the ladies passed round to the back entrance and found that there was no one at home save a son and daughter saying they had closed the house by command of the father They did not sell whisky by the small quantity only wine and beer and they would not sign the pledge The daughter said she followed the Bible rule to eat drink and be merry weep with those who weep and rejoice with those who rejoice After singing another hymn and engaging in prayer they started for Ripley On the road they met one of our prominent German fellow citizens who said he was sorry to see this move He had been all through France and Germany and never saw anything like this before They will hear it in the old country They will fill their papers and laugh The leaders do not feel discouraged with the result of their visit

The portions of scripture referred to found above were made the texts for several able speeches at the mass temperance meeting this evening All the saloons in our town keep closed and the proprietors of many of them are present at the meeting to-night

DEATH OF A PROMINENT PITTSBURG LAWYER—We find the following under a Pittsburg date of Feb 16th Hon H Bucher Swoope United States District Attorney and editor of the Evening Telegraph of this city died this morning in the forty third year of his age He was one of the most influential Republican leaders in this State and stood among the foremost of the Bar of Pennsylvania His death is regarded in this city as a public calamity

A London Magazine for January has an article on Joan of Arc raising the question whether he or some other person was burned at Rouen If we are to lose all our fine old myths one after another we may perhaps be consoled to find that the Maid of Orleans was not cruelly put to death after all but that she settled at Metz became the wife of Robert Hermoises and had a family by him There seems to be considerable evidence in favor of this supposition

DR GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe and has resumed practice at his Dispensary 623 Kearney street corner of Commercial San Francisco where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies and has returned with improved facilities for the alleviation of human suffering

Horrible Disease

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at the pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and broken-down constitutions disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene Let parents guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send immediately to DR. GIBBON a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent producing with unfailing certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances disposition to shun society, loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity If relief be not obtained, apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure Dr G will forfeit Five Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

Married Men,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief

DR. GIBBON is responsible and will give his patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

Cured at Home.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon, stating the symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions. By inclosing Ten Dollars coin in registered letter through the post office or through Wells Fargo & Co., a package of medicine will be forwarded to any part of the Union. All communications strictly confidential.

Caution to the Unfortunate

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who, with bogus sworn to certificates, dupe the unwary Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places were tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades, Some are tinsmiths shoemakers, barbers, carriers intelligence office keepers etc. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry; it will cost you nothing and may save you [illegible] for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting pretended certificates pretended patients Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he professes to cure.

Address DR. J F GIBBON 623 Kearny street corner Commercial San Francisco Postoffice [illegible]

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 1 957 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the OREGONIAN

NEW ORLEANS Feb 1—The Mardi Gras carnival festivities have closed upon the most brilliant and successful display ever recorded in the annals of its history in New Orleans the day opened cloudy and at 8 o'clock occurred a fall of rain but an hour later the sun shone out and the murky atmosphere of space and mind gave place to clearing skies and reviving hopes, which found fruition in as lovely a day as the calendar has ever known

On Monday, at 12 o'clock, the

and the Shah of Persia, attended by their courts reached the city by the United States steamer [illegible] and after a reception at the St Charles Hotel and a subsequent visit to the free matinees at the theaters they visited the opera house at night

Early this morning the city was alive with multitudes of people Thousands upon thousands of spectators took their place upon galleries and within buildings and thronged the thoroughfares set down in the route of the procession while upon every hand maskers on foot on horseback, and in carriages roamed merrily through space Later in the day the masses of humanity swelled in volume until at [illegible] o'clock Canal street was fairly impassable from end to end It was

SIMPLY A LIVING SEA

At that hour, in the vicinage of the City Hall on St Charles street, was sounded the herald's ring notes of the approach of the king and his pageant and directly the spectacle hove in view The procession which came winding its way from street to street in its almost endless detail typified the manners and customs which have prevailed since the Ostrogoths overran Italy and conquered Rome to the present time It was indeed a grand and instructive [illegible] illustration

EVERY GRADE OF CIVILIZATION

Which has existed in the long period in which [illegible] Rex is supposed to have lived and reigned There were the rude Northmen from the bleak shores of the Baltic the Goths and Vandals the fair children of Circassia the Turks of the olden period the classic Roman the children of the Orient the descendants of Ham and the voluptuous Persians the Moor from Spain the nimble Italians of later periods the various types of modern civilization [illegible] [illegible] through [illegible] appears the standard [illegible] of the [illegible]

CRESCENT AND THE CROSS,

And the whole completing itself in every [illegible] cent of American life and manners Leading this brilliant throng were two mounted buglers who from time to time sounded the appropriate calls as the procession moved or halted A man at arms ready to challenge foes followed close behind the buglers and after him a Roman galley drawn by four horses on the poop of which was borne in tableaux a living characters [illegible] [illegible] arm surmounted by a banner on which was inscribed Make way for the king In the galley was concealed a chime of bells which rang out their melodies in announcing the approach of the king of the carnival [illegible] [illegible] the galley was
